Astrological Midpoints

History of Midpoint Combinations

What is a Midpoint?

The use of midpoints historically goes back to 1200 AD when Guido Bonati, a famous Italian Astrologer, used half sums, otherwise known as midpoints, in his interpretation of a chart. More recently at the turn of the century, Alan Leo, a famous American Astrologer, used midpoints along with solar arc directions. I personally have no knowledge of the use of midpoints combined with the 90-degree dial prior to its use by Reinhold Ebertin and Alfred Witte at the beginning of the Nineteen Hundreds. The history of solar arcs on the other hand, goes back to Ptolemy who used primary directions in the second century.

A midpoint is the center between any two points, which in Astrology relates to the center between two planets and/or personal points, including the Midheaven, Ascendant, and the Nodes. This center point is the meeting of planetary energies that becomes active through the process of growth, relating to the passage of time. We relate to the aspects formed by the heavenly bodies through spatial relationship. This system as I mentioned earlier goes back to Reinhold Ebertin who, near the turn of the century developed this system along with Alfred Witte by taking a 360-degree wheel and breaking it down into a 90-degree dial. Ebertin believed that hard aspects created events in one's life thus; the use of the 90-degree dial became a viable tool for forecasting future events. Ebertin started by placing the planets into three sections -- 30 degrees for Cardinal Positions which include: Aries, Cancer, Libra and Capricorn points; 30 degrees for Fixed Positions which include: Taurus, Leo, Scorpio and Aquarius points; and 30 degrees for Mutable Positions which include: Gemini, Virgo, Sagittarius and Pisces points.

This system can be seen on the 90 degree dial as 0 to 30 degrees as Cardinal, 30 to 60 degrees Fixed and 60 to 90 degrees as Mutable positions for the planetary points to be placed in accordance of their quality.

How to Use this System

This system can be used to add great insight into the interpretations of the natal chart through the use of delineation of transits, progressions, solar arcs and degree arcs. In fact it can be used in almost any interpretive form of astrology where timing is added into the equation. Timing is where this type of Astrology becomes very precise and accurate. The best way to use this system is to incorporate the natal midpoint along with the time that its energy becomes activated by directing the planets into the future. This is done by Solar Arc, which is the distance it takes for the Sun to move from one day to the next at the time of one's birth, which is approximately 59' to 1 degree 2', which is then added to the age in question. We can also use degree arcs, known as age arcs, which is equivalent to one degree equals one year, times the number of years old you are now and/or when the specific event in question occurred. It may sound difficult, but it's not once you become familiar with this system of delineation. When using this tool you will notice that I have included health interpretations along with dietary issues, which often come up when there is a lack of good nutrition or assimilation of nutrients. This can be seen easily through the activation of the natal midpoints on the 90-degree dial. Thus, I included medical interpretations in most of the midpoint structures.

Each midpoint structure has many meanings, so I have narrowed it down to the most important interpretation of each of them based upon my years of past experience. These interpretations are done in the higher and lower, or shadow manifestations. We are all on the earth plane of existence, thus no matter how enlightened we may seem, we still have to deal with our shadow. Many midpoints include births, health areas and transitions and only a part of what is said may apply to you personally. But on the other hand the whole interpretation may apply. I have included the positive and negative side of each of these midpoints so as to reach all probable outcomes.

Many times there will be others who are read through one's personal chart, since these people become the players in one's personal movie. These players include midpoints with:

Moon	=	Mother and the Feminine principal
Saturn	=	Father/Business Associates, masculine principal
Mercury/Mars	=	Brothers and Male Relatives
Mercury/Venus	=	Sisters and Female Relatives
Sun/Node	=	Children
Venus/Uranus	=	Female Friends
Mars/Uranus	=	Male Friends
Jupiter	=	Grandparents

Relationships include almost any midpoint, which involves the Sun, Moon, Venus and Mars combined with the personal points, Asc, Mc, Moon and Node and always be aware of the rulerships of these positions.

Your Birth Chart: Midpoint Combinations

The natal midpoints represent our birth traits, our strengths, weaknesses and potential for personal growth. Each midpoint could involve others who are part of our life's path. Thus, a natal midpoint may apply to family and friends as opposed to the energy being directed to the self. Likewise, the medical influences and health issues mentioned are often manifest by others in our lives as opposed to the self. The possible medical problems, as well as the "shadow side" of a midpoint may never become an active manifestation of the midpoint's energy when addressed early. Keep an open mind when reading the interpretations of a midpoint since they are geared to both the higher and lower manifestations of the energy, and be aware that medical references should not be treated as a diagnosis. Psychological or physical symptoms or problems should be directed to the appropriate professional for diagnosis and evaluation. The timing of the events indicated by these natal midpoints are activated by progressions, directions and finally transits as the final touch off point sometime in the future.

This also denotes the father who may be in a position of power professionally or there could be a dominant, controlling father who is very critical and potentially abusive. This relates to the passing of a father or grandfather, since it is the handing over of the power to someone younger. Medically this relates to the bones, skin and reproductive system which may need attention now.

There can also be transitions for someone in the family or a birth. This relates to the last one to be born.

Active Midpoints: May 01, 2004 to Apr 30, 2005

When interpreting the active midpoints one should keep in mind that the strongest midpoint is the one that is activating a natal midpoint. Thus if your natal midpoint has been activated by transit or progression/direction, then the possibility of the events happening are much stronger. The transits to that natal midpoint seem to be the final timer on an event, which could be indicated in the birth chart. These interpretations address not only what could likely happen for the self but also for others. These midpoints also relate to medical issues, which could be for the self and or others around you. Many times these interpretations medically will have already been addressed, since one may have been working on their personal habits long before, thus arresting any ill effects from the midpoint. The activation of midpoints can happen as early as 1 degree or the equivalent of one year ahead of the exact hit, thus it's good to really look ahead at the energy being activated (by directed planets especially) during the coming year. The active midpoints look at our potential for personal growth, act as a guide for our future and can be used as an adjunct to the usual techniques of interpretive astrology.

May 02, 2004 Moon = Jupiter/Node Progressed

Connecting with women who form a new family circle is a representation of this energy; thus there's a new appreciation for the soul connections being made. These connections will play more of a spiritual and nurturing role in the lives of those around oneself; thus helping to heal old family wounds.

May 04, 2004 Saturn = Moon/Node Transit

Problems associated with coworkers or working relationships are a manifestation of this. It can cause separations in the family and/or in work associations. Many times it manifests as the loss or separation from the father, or a person who is in the authority position in one's life. There's an ability to act as a spokesperson for others, to be more in a position of control over the family circumstances, or to act as the boss in the work environment. There can also be mourning our past and/or mourning over the loss of a family member with others.

May 06, 2004 Moon = Sun/Mercury Direction: Solar Arc

One has the ability to have clear communication, with an emotional side to it, thus relating to storytellers. Usually the family is very emotionally connected and everyone is included in what's happening as opposed to being excluded. This, on a daily level, can be a time to have a family get together and/or a reunion. It represents a good time to give a presentation where one can express themselves with feelings about the subject matter. This is also a favorable period for writing, especially about the past, since it gives good powers of recollection and the ability to reflect.

May 10, 2004 Moon = Mars/Saturn Progressed

The mother and a lack of emotional awareness are the areas one may find themselves stuck in, thus there is a personal barrier that one needs to go beyond, and that barrier is our emotions. Early family patterns could have served us and/or drained our energy on an emotional level, thus this is a time to change old worn-out patterns in for new ones that can serve us and have lasting durability. This energy relates to constructive and/or destructive patterns, which denote anger and/or the need for anger management. Medically, this manifests as gall bladder problems, in the form of gallstones. Mentally this relates to the gall of that person, meaning they are using anger to try to control the activities of another.

May 12, 2004 Saturn = Venus/Saturn (Mature Love) Transit

Venus and Saturn combinations often relate to the desire for stability in one's life, along with the need for financial security in the relationships we attract to ourselves. Many times this results in marrying people who give us a sense of financial security, thus satisfying our need for stability. There can also be a desire for a long-term committed relationship with someone who is an equal in values. This commitment often is to someone who is older or more mature than oneself. One also has the capacity to have a great love for the father or have an attractive father whom is popular with women. On the other side of this, the father could have the potential of being a womanizer, thus affecting one's personal choices in relationship as one matures. Often times this causes one to feel alone in love within a relationship or being out of balance and feeling that one is giving more than their partner is. There is a need to address one's fears about relationships, since one could attract people who don't fulfill their needs, thus they feel unloved and hurt. This sets up a movie where fears and blocks become the major players, causing separation and divorce as the end result. There could also have been divorce between the parents, which reinforced this feeling that one can't trust relationships, thus, ending in the separation of the love bond. Medically, there can be beautiful skin or acne or many skin blemishes, as well as kidney stones due to the hardening within one's feeling of love for another. The bladder and inflammation of the kidneys relates to a feeling of being out of balance in one's love life.

May 12, 2004 Moon = Mercury/Neptune Progressed

Being a psychic who can connect with the world of spirits easily is a manifestation of this energy. Women with this energy seem to be in another space and time but lack grounding; one could even have a psychic mother or grandmother. One may have peculiarities about them, thus being totally out of touch with reality. Medically this can cause food allergies, and dairy products potentially can become toxic to the body. Breast problems and cysts are prone with this combination. There is a desire to live near water and/or one feels at home when near a body of water.

May 13, 2004 Moon = Jupiter/Saturn Direction: Solar Arc

There is a desire to move forward in life by expanding in one's surroundings. Thus, there can be a purchasing of a new home and/or remodeling or doing major repairs on one's existing residence. On a psychological level, one may want to overcome early feelings of not having enough, or feeling less than enough, possibly because there just wasn't enough -- either way, it addresses our lack of emotional stability. This is present when a woman is trying to overcome difficult circumstances due to the lack of education and/or early family limitations that have held her back from her full potential.

May 14, 2004 Saturn = Venus/Uranus Transit

Separations from friends or difficulty in relationships -- either due to going in different directions or not spending enough time with each other to truly develop and nurture the relationship -- is a manifestation of this energy. There can also be controlled response in a relationship in one's love life or a feeling of a change in one's capacity to love. Thus, this denotes the sobering up process within a relationship. On the positive side, one may have new friends come in through a job change or a change of personnel within the present job.

May 16, 2004 Saturn = Saturn/Node (Stable Connections) Transit

When Saturn and the Node combine with one another, there's a joining of people who have mutual goals in mind, connecting one with coworkers or people to build new structures. There is a feeling of maturity, or being around people who have mastered something on a professional level, thus this relates to a new boss or a change in management. On the other side, there can be separations from others due to work grievances, along with inhibitions or limitations within one's personal or professional associations. There can be a feeling of hopelessness in a situation that involves others. This also relates to the father and is present when one is separated from a family member, or a family member may have a health issue to contend with.

May 17, 2004 Moon = Mars/Uranus Progressed

Women who are volatile with unresolved anger are influenced by this energy as they may do things in an unusual or different way, sometimes to get attention. Thus, there can be unstable situations surrounding the home life. There can also be a feeling that one won't stay in one place for long or stick to anything, since it's hard to commit to something that has a schedule or routine; thus there's no longevity. There can also be sudden or unexpected births in the family. To resolve this energy, it's important to develop some sense of tradition or routine that one can live by on a daily level.

May 18, 2004 Saturn = Uranus/Node Transit

Career changes shared with others are one of the manifestations of this. It gives the need to change a pattern which has become boring or needs to be changed to bring in new energy. Sometimes these changes are fast and sudden, happening without warning. An example of this would be a shared layoff, or getting a new boss. This also relates to sudden earth changes which are experienced with others.

The father and his health come to light with this, possibly causing problems in the heart or circulatory system. There can also be sudden changes in a man's career direction.

May 18, 2004 Saturn = Moon/Mercury Transit

There may be inhibitions in communications due to early family conditioning which causes one to emotionally develop at a slower pace. One may be shy when communicating their needs to others, as well as having a lot of difficulty amongst family members, due to old patterning. There may be security issues which need to be addressed so that there can be growth, otherwise one will be locked into repetitive behavior and left with a feeling of no way out. On a positive level, one may have organizational skills and the ability to remember little details that can be applied in a business sense.

May 20, 2004 Pluto = Node/Ascendant Transit

Powerful associations that can change the path of one's life can come in now. There can also be transitions and births, or people can come into one's life or leave by moving away. Either way, these are people who will make their mark on one's life due to their personal power. Thus this relates to great advancement in life through the help of others.

May 29, 2004 Saturn = Mercury/Saturn (Concentrated Thought) Transit

Mercury and Saturn relate to introspection and concentration of thought since one has the potential to become deeply fixed into a mental pattern that is either favorable or not. Thus, depression comes easily and one tends to only see the glass as half empty. There can also be mental blocks along with difficult communications with the father and/or boss. One may have problems feeling as though they can't share their thoughts with a sibling, which could lead to a separation from the sibling for an extended period of time. There can be difficulty due to the inability of others to understand what is trying to be communicated and/or they just don't feel the same way, thus, direct and effective communication is most important, especially in the work environment. One usually has a tendency to be able to teach others what they've already mastered. Thus, there can be leadership ability due to having learned how to communicate in an authoritative manner as well as having constructive thoughts or organized thoughts. One can clear away a mess of papers by itemizing, collating, organizing, and simplifying one's self. On a professional level, one has the potential to put in a new system and perfecting it, thus, this relates to accountants and teachers. It also represents the working relationships with others and studying for a period of time, or even focusing on writing a long-term novel. Though, there's a tendency to be self-absorbed in one's own thoughts and to not hear what others are trying to communicate. Medically, this relates to breaks in the fingers, arms, hands, and collarbone due to potential blocks in communication over a period of time. Heavy smokers also have this, causing lung problems along with blocks in the nerves of the hands and/or problems with the disks in the low back; there may also be a lack of assimilation of one's nutrition.

May 30, 2004 Jupiter = Mars/Ascendant Transit

Popular people or a time of popularity in one's life is an expression of this energy, and it can bring a man into a woman's life. With this, we can commit to something greater than ourselves by working with others who have similar beliefs to our own. Many times people get married and/or become engaged now. This also can put one in the center of attention due to their activities, which could be either legal or illegal. Be careful not to speed through life with this, take time to smell the roses.

May 31, 2004 Saturn = Mercury/Uranus Transit

One has the capacity to think quickly on their feet, with the desire to have a change of direction in career and/or a change in management. This energy relates to new projects to work on or rising to the top after a period of stagnation. There can also be career changes for the father, as well as the potential for circulatory problems for the father or the self. One can separate from others, due to finally attaining their preset goals; events can happen that tax one's sense of stability.

Jun 03, 2004 Saturn = Sun (The Disciple) Transit
